7 INJURED IN 3 CAR CRASHES OVER WEEKEND

Seven persons were injured in three auto accidents investigated by state police from the local substation over the weekend.

Six soldiers from Fort Ritchie were hurt when two cars collided at the intersection of the Emmitsburg-Blue Ridge Summit Rd. with the Fairfield-Zora Rd. at Zora at 12:10 o'clock Sunday morning.

State police said George G. Hager, 24, Fort Ritchie, had halted his car at the stop sign in Zora preparatory to turning west when a car operated by Bernard J. Kerkiewicz, 21, Fort Ritchie, headed east, attempted to turn into the road toward Fairfield from the Emmitsburg-Blue Ridge Summit Rd. and collided with the halted vehicle.

Use Two Hospitals

Thomas A. Troflio, 43, Fort Ritchie, who had multiple lacerations of the face and head, was removed to the Waynesboro hospital by a passing motorist. Emmitsburg and Gettysburg ambulances brought the other five to the Warner Hospital here. They included Norman E. Frank, 30, Fort Ritchie, who with Troflio was a passenger in the Hager car, who suffered a concussion. Hager had a laceration of the forehead.

Those in the Kerkiewicz car, all of whom were treated at the Warner Hospital, included Ray S.

TWO LOST BOYS FOUND AFTER 4 HOUR SEARCH

Two nine-year old youngsters who left home early Saturday afternoon to "work on a tree hut" were the object of a long hunt before they were found at 9:30 p.m.

The two, Larry White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald White, and James Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Martin, all of Gettysburg R. 2, left about 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon for a hut in the general direction of W. Confederate Ave. with the approval of their parents.

When they failed to return home by 5 o'clock the fathers went in search of them. At 6:30 o'clock a call was made to the farm of Sylvester M. Brown, Gettysburg R. 2, where 30 persons, present at the farm at the time, took part in a search.

Found In Woods

The assistance of borough and state police and WGET were enlisted. Gettysburg firemen, gathered at the engine house about 9:30 o'clock to help with the search, were notified that the children had been found.

Men found the two youngsters in woods near the Brown barn. They said they had gotten lost in dense underbrush and had "run into barbed wire" and were considering staying where they were overnight.

J. T. FARRELL SPEAKS FEB. 10 AT COLLEGE

James T. Farrell, American novelist, will speak on "The Writer And His Audience" at 8:30 p.m. February 10 at Gettysburg College.

Farrell's appearance, sponsored by the college lecture and concert series, will be open to the public at the SCA building. Admission is free.

Under the auspices of the lecture series, Gettysburg College annually secures widely known scholars, travelers, and outstanding public figures to speak on topics of interest to the students and public. Dr. William K. Sundermeyer, of the college faculty, is in charge.

Farrell, described as "one of the giants of contemporary writing," is one of the most prominent of the "literary naturalists" in the stream going back to French writer Emile Zola and Americans Stephen Crane and Theodore Dreiser. His great work is the "vivid and convincing" Studs Lonigan trilogy, now an American classic. He is also recognized for his Danny O'Neill series, other novels, short stories, and literary criticism.

Born In Chicago

Chicago-born in 1904, Farrell grew up in an Irish-American neighborhood, the locale of the Lonigan and O'Neill sagas and most of his other writings. He writes about people, real people. He chronicles their passions and their convictions, their bewilderment and their human dignity with such vitality that it was said, "When the history of the twentieth century novel comes to be written, the name of James T. Farrell will be set in bold type."

Farrell has said, "In my fiction, I seek to recreate a precise, detailed and objective picture of certain features of the so-called American Way of Life. I seek to answer the question: what happens to people?"

Faint Radio Signals Spur Hunt For Lost Danish Ship

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Faint radio signals spurred the search today for the Danish ship Hans Hedtoft, missing with 96 persons since it hit an iceberg Friday in heavy seas off Greenland.

The weak signals were believed to be from a lifeboat of the 2,785-ton Hedtoft. There had been no trace of the ship or survivors since she hit the ice.

The signals were heard by two Danish radio stations on the Greenland coast and the Danish motorship Umanak, which had swung off its Greenland-Denmark run Sunday to join the search.

Heard Twice

The first signals were heard about 5 p.m. Sunday and then again between 10 and 11 p.m. The Umanak's radioman said the signals were sent by an untrained operator and were very weak and irregularly spaced.

Lifeboat Sighted

The Umanak at the time was 60 miles west of Greenland's Cape Farewell, and the signals apparently came from a position south-west of there. Greenland experts in Copenhagen said it would have been possible for the Hedtoft's lifeboats to have drifted that far west.

JANUARY WAS COLD AND DRY

January was short on warmth and rain but was more notable for its sudden weather changes than for extreme weather in either direction.

Gettysburg Times weather station records show that the average daily temperature last month was more than a degree below normal and more than a half inch short on rainfall. It became the fourth consecutive January that was colder than normal after seven years of warm Januaries.

The daily average reading here last month was 29.3 degrees. Normal is 30.4 degrees so that the average daily shortage was 1.1 degrees. The new low for the winter was set at 4 above zero on January 19 and the high was 64 degrees the afternoon of January 21.

There were measurable amounts of rain or snow on 10 days and they totaled 2.47 inches, which is 0.62 inches short of January's normal 3.09 inches. Snowfall here totaled 3.3 inches. The heaviest rain of the month started on January 1 and ran into the next day for a total of 1.18 inches.

Fog, sleet and glaze were recorded during the month and there were a number of days when highway travel was hazardous because of weather conditions.

Arendtsville Report

Freezing temperatures were recorded here on 28 of the 31 days last month and there were nine days in which the temperatures were below freezing throughout the day.

The Arendtsville laboratory weather station report, issued this morning by Dr. Frank N. Hewelton, showed rainfall and temperatures there were also below normal while snowfall totaled 5.7 inches and 124 hours of sunshine were counted, 41.3 per cent of the total "available."

The average daily temperature was 28.34 degrees which is 1.88 degrees below normal there and 1.01 below last January. The high reading was 61 degrees on the 21st and the low was 6 below zero on the 18th. There were 29 days of freezing weather there during the month.

Precipitation totaled 2.65 inches which is 0.39 inches below normal and 1.7 inches below last year.

ONE DEAD, 17 HURT IN JAN. ROAD MISHAPS

One person was killed and 17 injured in 25 auto accidents investigated by state police from the local barracks during January, according to the monthly recapitulation of their activities prepared by local officers.

In January the officers made 121 traffic arrests and seven arrests on criminal charges. They recovered one stolen car valued at $1,000 and in addition to the auto crash investigations also conducted 16 investigations on criminal charges, three state department investigations and four other investigations.

In traveling 26,110 miles as drivers and 5,065 miles as passengers, they conducted 254 patrols of the highways of the county area. The officers spent 617 hours on criminal investigation work, 1,395 hours on traffic duty, 1,146 hours on station duty and 100 hours on special assignments.

Elliott Offers Stop Sign Bill

Sen. Douglas H. Elliott, of the Adams-Franklin District, has introduced a bill in the State Senate which would permit the state and local municipalities to erect a new type traffic sign bearing the legend "Four-Way Stop" at designated intersections.

The measure has been referred to the Senate's committee on highways of which George N. Wade is chairman. Sen. Elliott said the new type sign he has proposed for state approval is patterned after the "four-way stop" signs devised by Borough Engineer William H. Groundhog Nearly Freezes; More Winter

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — The groundhog darn near froze to death this morning. And there will be six more weeks of winter. Thus reports the groundhog's chief keeper. Promptly at 8:23 a.m., Sam Light led a procession of a few hearty members of the famed Punxsutawney Groundhog Club to Gobbler's Knob, a little hill on the outskirts of this western Pennsylvania town.

It was 10 below zero, declared Light—the president of the club. But, despite all this, the groundhog poked his nose out and, as promptly, scurried back into his hole. This means there will be six more weeks of winter.

Signed Wife's Name

On a charge filed before Justice John H. Basehore by William P. Jacobs, of Jacobs Brothers Store, Lincoln Square, he also entered a guilty plea at the hearing Saturday afternoon, and could not furnish $500 bail.

The check issued at the grocery store was in the amount of $10 and the check at the service station was $25, according to the informations.

Virginia Admits Negroes To Public Schools Today, First Time In Its History

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia calmly thrust aside the color barrier today and for the first time in her history put Negro and white pupils together in public schools. 21 Negroes were enrolled in public schools in two counties.

Grudgingly, but peacefully at the outset, the Old Dominion made the transition from segregation to integration in a fraction of her public schools, in Arlington County and the city of Norfolk.

No violence, no rowdy incidents occurred as four Negro pupils filed quietly into Stratford Junior High School in Arlington, across the Potomac from Washington.

Two hundred miles down the state in Norfolk, Negro children began showing up to enroll for the first time in six junior and senior high schools. Again, there were no disorders.

No Demonstrations

Police with riot gear stood by at Arlington. None was in sight at Norfolk.

The quartet of Negro children at Arlington—three boys and a girl—marched onto the school grounds from a seldom used roadway and through the doors shortly before 9 a.m. They were alone. They didn't look alarmed or worried.

Nobody tried to stop them; there was an absence of picketing and demonstrations.

Something like 100 police, equipped with white helmets, portable loud speakers and radios, canteens, and the customary night sticks and guns, converged on Stratford long before the school opening hour.

Only Pupils and School Employees

were allowed on grounds. Even parents were kept out.

17 In Norfolk

In Norfolk, a Negro, Lewis Cousins, and his mother calmly paraded past a cluster of white children on the steps of Maury High School to become the first of his race to shatter the color line.

Virginia

In the city.
There was the usual chatter of school kids, but no trouble of any kind.

Again there was no disturbance a few moments later when Betty Jean Read, another of 17 Negroes assigned to previously all white schools, turned up unescorted at Granby High.

Hold No Classes
The six Norfolk schools, closed since September under Virginia's new dead massive resistance program, were holding no classes today—only enrolling pupils and assigning them to classes.

At Norview High School, two pairs of Negro girls turned up. White students watched curiously and quietly. By that time, police were on hand and cleared a path for the Negroes.

One white girl was heard to say: "Here they are... I hope they're satisfied."

Others said they were glad to get back to school.
Some remarked that they didn't think there would be any trouble, although one white lad said he had heard "rough kids" might cause some later in the day.

At least 14 of the 17 Negroes had entered the Norfolk schools by 9:20.

Take Precaution
In both Norfolk and Arlington, police, community and school authorities and student leaders had predicted and said they hoped there would be no violence.

But extra precautions and extra police were used, because officials were well aware of the riots over integration at Little Rock, Ark.

The absence of disorder in Virginia brought word from Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. that he was "most gratified."

The governor hinted to newsmen that he might be ready to jump around quickly to any trouble spots that might develop.

The only ominous note sounded in advance, from the ranks of Arlington segregationists, failed to develop.

The York County Industrial Development Corp. has approved a tentative program through which it hopes to attract new industries to the county and to retain the ones already there.

Its seven-point program will be forwarded to the State Department of Commerce along with an application for $20,200 in state funds to implement the local allocations of $22,500.

The 14-member corporation, created by resolution of the county commissioners June 16, 1958, held its formal organization meeting last week.

Porter Wright, executive director for the York County Board of Assistance, has retired after 27 years of service in the assistance field.

The P. H. Glatfelter Co. is reported to be spending $70,000 annually on research to eliminate the unpleasant odor from its paper pulp plant in Spring Grove.

With some reports not yet available, the York County Chapter of the National Foundation reported March of Dimes contributions in excess of $30,000.

At least 12 people died accidentally in Pennsylvania over the weekend, 10 of them on the highways.

Two women — a widow and an invalid — perished in a fire that destroyed their Philadelphia home Sunday.

The worst of the traffic accidents — a two car collision near West Chester Saturday, killed two young men and injured two others.

OWNER SEEKS MORE PAY FOR
ROUTE 15 LAND

The Frederick County Property Review Board Friday reviewed an application for compensation by Dr. Adolph Wasilifsky, Emmitsburg. The State Roads Commission is seeking to obtain a 150-foot strip totalling 1.39 acres in the rear of the 6.02-acre Wasilifsky property.

The SRC seeks the land along U. S. 15 one mile south of Emmitsburg as part of the new U. S. 15 controlled access highway.

Robert S. Rothenhoefer, SRC attorney, testified that the 1.01 acres of land required in fee simple, .05 acre in easements and .33 acre severed from the land by the new highway should be valued at $805 including the value of 31 pear trees on the property.

James McSherry, representing Dr. Wasilifsky, presented an estimate from a local real estate man, New Zeiler, valuing the land alone at $150 per acre for a total of $192 plus $105 for 300 feet of fencing which McSherry said would be needed after the SRC took its share.

Values Trees
In another estimate, Quinn F. Topper, Emmitsburg area orchardist, valued the land at $500 per acre provided 120 pear trees were planted on each acre and the trees themselves valued at $45 to $50 each.

The 31 trees on the property were then valued at $50 each by McSherry for a total of $1,550 plus the $297 which Zeiler estimated for the land and fencing for a total value of $1,847.

Rothenhoefer claimed the land was only worth $125 per acre and that the trees were worth $20 each. Paul D. Simpson, right of way agent for the State Roads Commission office in Frederick, testified as to the requirements of the SRC and the necessity for taking the land.

Sherman P. Bowers, of Frederick, and Samuel L. Birely, of Thurmont, were the two Property Review Board members hearing the case.

Birely, chairman of the board said he will announce a decision in the case in the near future.

ZONING BOARD
UNCERTAIN ON
OIL PLANT SITE

The problem of Charles Stouter, Emmitsburg oil dealer whose plant west of the town was destroyed by fire last November 17 and who is searching for a piece of land on which to rebuild, came in for discussion again Friday afternoon at a meeting in Frederick of the Frederick County Planning and Zoning Commission.

County Planner Arthur Hatten and executive secretary, J. Alfred Cutsail, were on hand to advise commission members Daniel E. Wight, chairman; Noah E. Keffer Jr., vice chairman; Thomas J. Crum, secretary; Howard U. Quinn and County Commissioner Mehrl H. Ramsburg.

Under consideration were the status of the large Hickman tract of land in Point of Rocks, proposed for development by radio and TV sports announcer James Gibbons, and the proposed location of bulk fuel storage facilities for Stouter.

Industry Planned
Brochures were presented to the commission members showing proposed light industrial development of part of the 550 acres in the former Hickman tract now owned by Gibbons and Arthur Bows of Bethesda.

Cutsail said the commission has given tentative approval to the development of 65 acres of this land for certain non-objective uses.

Way agent for the State Roads Commission office in Frederick, testified as to the requirements of the SRC and the necessity for taking the land.

Sherman P. Bowers, of Frederick, and Samuel L. Birely, of Thurmont, were the two Property Review Board members hearing the case.

Birely, chairman of the board said he will announce a decision in the case in the near future.

tionable industrial uses, subject of specific rezoning requests.

The remaining 485 acres must await the development of the specific location of the new U. S. 15, Cutsail said.

The Stouter request for bulk fuel storage became involved with the whole question of where the industrial area should be located in Emmitsburg. Stouter had agreed to purchase part of the old which had been zoned industrial on the land use plan under the interim zoning ordinance.

Deed Restrictions
But covenants discovered in the deed to this land have ruled out his location there and may have ruled out all industry in that section of Emmitsburg. There is some legal argument that these covenants only apply to land already developed by Emmet Gardens but other legal authorities say it applies to all proposed development there.

It appears unlikely that Stouter can purchase this land now that neighbors have objected. He is negotiating now for other land. Stouter owns some land south of Emmitsburg on which he wants to locate but that would require "spot" zoning and would be in an area where no other industry is likely to locate.

Land north of Emmitsburg, near U. S. 15, may be considered as the new industrial zone if the covenants on the Emmet Gardens land prevent any of it from being used for industry.

Inspection Tuesday
Julian Tarrant, of Richmond, Va., local area advisor for planning consultants firm of Ladislav Segoe, of Cincinnati, will personally inspect the Emmitsburg situation Tuesday.

Stouter will be advised to locate wherever the new industrial area of Emmitsburg develops. In the meantime, he will continue to operate from his present site, which neighbors have promised to buy for development as soon as he leaves.

Battlefield Memorials: The in-

In addition to the monuments al-

states are beginning to move.
Pennsylvania has made liberal ap-

VALUES

It is by the collection and administering of values in this life
that we gradually become mature.
We must also keep appraising
these values, warming and classifying them. By being faithful to them we grow, learn perspective,
and enlarge the area of the mind.
It is by the persistent reviewing of these values that we soon become a part of them, they influencing all our acts and decisions. They keep lifting us to high ground. There is no end to the ordinary values. It is the spiritual values that most concern us and to which we turn for a proper appraisal of them as we wend our way through life.A sense of values amounts to nothing unless we do something about its use and application.
One important item about values
is that they call for responsibility if put to use. They are important guides, however, that none of us should set aside. Their wonder and realization are manifest every day and year of our lives. Never should they be neglected.A sense of values is not inherited. It's something you create
"on your own." The values themselves, however, are free gifts to each one of us. We select them and model our character about them. They are prods to our daily thinking. They present us with the joys we select, and they hover about us when at crossroads.It all depends upon what each one of us puts into the values that have been adopted. Something of ourselves. That is what makes each value shine like a friendly star in the heavens at night-time!Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Eagerness."

Just Folks

THE BLIND BACHELOR

Thousands of maidens have eyes
just like Susan,
Brown eyes, and wide eyes,
just like them, I vow;
Eyes that are dreamy, and eyes
that are musin',
Then why is it Susan's are troubling me now?Why should her eyes haunt my dreams when I'm sleeping?
Why should they trouble my soul through the day?Thousands just like them are smiling or weeping,
Yet I only weep when my Susan's away.Thousands of cheeks are as pink
as my Susan's,
Thousands of necks are as
white as her own,
Thousands of smiles are as sweet,
honey oozin',
Then why should I sigh for but Susan's alone?This is the riddle the world has been trying
For ages to find a solution
thereof;Why Susan's eyes only should set me to sighing.
The vague and mysterious
answer is: "Love."Projected 1959, by The George

although there are some questions about outlawing billboards in the

PLANTS FIND
COST SAVERS

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Some defense plants report today they are cracking the preproduction cost barrier.They say their new system also is shaving in half the time it takes to get new developments from the drawing boards into actual weapons production.These cost and time problems trouble many civilian goods plants
as much as they do the military forces. And such paper costs have been rising steadily, both in civil and defense production shops.Use New System
A new electro-mechanized system has been tested for a month
in Westinghouse Electric's Air Arm Division in Baltimore, after two years of development. It is being used on such equipment as Bomarc defense missiles.At the rate paper costs have been rising, Westinghouse claims that by 1962 it will have saved its military customers a half million dollars through its new Mechanized Manufacturing Information system.It also says the system minimizes preproduction and production overtime, helping to hold down both labor and material
costs.Savings Welcome
Any saving in military spending would be welcome news to taxpayers.The system ties together semiautomatic and automatic business machines to cut the four to 10 weeks (depending on complexity)
now needed to get new ideas into actual production to two to five weeks.Here is the problem it tackles:
Manufacturing information furnished by design engineers goes to eight to 10 other departments.
It covers instructions on how to make a product, when and where to get materials, what tools are needed, and how much such production work should cost.The system now generally used in industry is for each department to add manually all of its own basic information and how and what to do, and when it can be done, and to pass this along to the next section.Time Saver Under MMI the basic information is put on perforated paper tape as soon as engineering drawings and specifications are issued.
From then on data needed by each department are issued simultaneously in either tape or punched cards.Thus, for example, purchasing agents can begin to gather materials while the manufacturing division is getting ready to process them on arrival.Electronic computers calculate automatically the quantities of raw materials needed. Tabulating machines process the information simultaneously. Electric repeater units automatically send the accumulated data, along with operating instructions, to all departments involved.Time saved in gearing for production often cuts out the premium expense of overtime operations.BALLOONS MAY

under its bed. Before the hole was plugged billions of gallons of wa-drowned, but all hope has not been given up. Teams have been working around the clock to drain the water from the mines so rescuers can go down and search for the missing miners.Pumps already are draining an estimated 6,500 gallons of water a minute from the mines. And three more pumps might go into operation today, an official said

Sunday night. Under present plans 16 pumps will be set up. It might be many days, however, before enough water is removed to safely search the mine tunnels.

practices of the state government
headed for the scrutiny of the Republican - controlled state Senate
today.Sen. James S. Berger, GOP floor leader, predicted a package of deficiency appropriation bills totaling more than 15 million dollars would pass the upper House.
But statements by the floor leader
and Sen. Robert D. Fiering (R-Allegheny) indicated the GOP would take the opportunity to make some critical comments about how the Democrats are conducting the fiscal affairs of the state.Meantime, the House was expected to receive legislation aimed at restricting mining operations near rivers and other large bodies of water, a move prompted by the mine disaster near Pittston a week and a half ago.Blasts "Hysteria"
Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, said last week his side would introduce such legislation this week, probably when the house reconvened last today.House speaker H. G. Andrews (D-Cambria) gave support to the idea over the weekend, at the same time blasting calls for a legislative probe of the mine disaster as "bunk hysteria."Andrews referred to pledges by Luzerne County lawmakers to call for a probe of what some house members called "possible laxity and dereliction" among mine inspectors in the Wyoming Valley disaster.

Says Laws Needed

The Susquehanna River, swollen
by rains, ate through a mine wall near Pittston sending billions of gallons of water into the workings.
Twelve men still are missing."What is needed now is a new set of regulations and some law changes to make sure no mines are ever worked near rivers or other bodies of water," Andrews said."We also should look into the situation as relates to just how much water is in the mine workings and whether any of the area
is in real danger of subsidence."
Rep. James Musto (D-Luzerne)
said, however, the Luzerne County group planned to go ahead with its intention to call for legislative investigation of the disaster.

Okayed Money

The House last week approved a 2½ million dollar emergency appropriation to help the Pittston area and another $500,000 in aid to flood stricken western Pennsylv-vania.The Senate was to take up these appropriations when it reconvened
this afternoon.Meanwhile, Senate Republicans recommended new "watch dog" legislation aimed at preventing the administration from deficit spending in the next two year fiscal period.

McCartney Job Pending

Fleming said it was "ridiculous
to continue allowing department heads to decide whether they will run deficiency appropriations of which 9½ million dollars would go to meet public assistance payments and $3,200,000 for occupational disease benefits.Fleming aimed his criticism particularly at smaller deficiencies reported by state hospitals and other agencies.The Senate Elections Committee was expected to continue its study

commissioner. A two-thirds Senate

SALES TAX IS
PA. OUTLOOKHARRISBURG (AP)—A broadened 3 per cent sales tax shaped up today as the principal revenue-raising suggestion expected from Gov. Lawrence's Tax Study Commission.A member who declined to be identified, reported over the weekend there appears to be general agreement by the members on this point."The argument will really start when we try to decide just how much it will be broadened," he said.

No Agreement Yet

No general agreement, he added, has been reached on any other tax to help finance need for new revenue in the two - year fiscal period starting June 1.The member also reported that the commission may not be able to meet its original target date of Feb. 16 for making its recommendations. It has not received Lawrence's budget, he said, and the state's new tax requirements still are not known.The commission expects to get the figures Tuesday at a meeting
here with Lawrence and budget
officials.

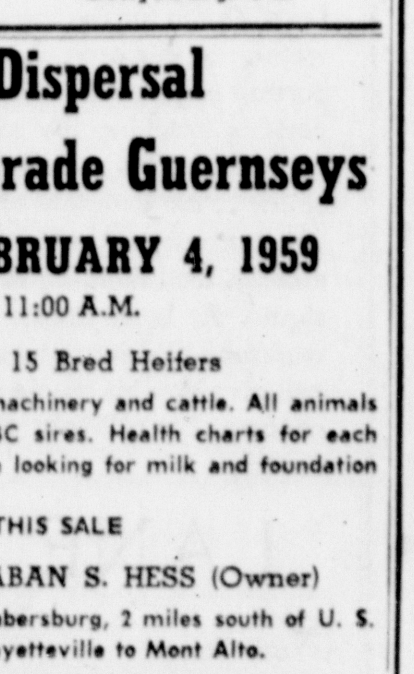

May Tax Clothing

It is expected the commission will recommend that clothing be included in the sales tax although labor members of the commission may try to exclude work and infants' clothing.A clothing tax would raise up to 100 million dollars additional revenue, according to estimates.YOUTHS ADMIT

Bisons Eke Out 71-68 Win Over Bullet Cagers; Delaware Here Thursday

A hustling and scrappy band of Gettysburg College cagers gave the powerful Bucknell dribblers a real scare here Saturday evening before losing out 71-68 in the closing seconds in a Middle Atlantic Conference game.

Bucknell, 11-3, was a top-heavy favorite to win with ease but found Bob Hulton's fired-up squad one of their toughest opponents. Gettysburg held the lead throughout much of the see-saw battle and was on top 66-65 with but 2:09 minutes left.

Four straight free throws by Hal Danzig, who boosted his Bucknell career scoring totaling 1,011 points with 27 tallies, sent the Bisons ahead 69-66 with 33 seconds remaining. Del Warfel, high man for Gettysburg with 23, landed a one-hander with just 14 seconds remaining. After a Bison time out, the Bullets started an all-court press which resulted in the fouling of Danzig who caged two more free throws with but one second left.

Bucknell started off with a rush to take a 5-1 lead in the first 3:15 minutes. The Bullets came on to tie the score at 12-12 on a goal by Warfel and foul by Frank Grzelecki and then swept ahead 20-13 on four straight goals by Grzelecki, Warfel, again Grzelecki and Jack Hathaway after 10:06 of the first half.

The Bisons spurred to a 26-24 lead after 15:54 on three straight goals by Tommy Thompson, Bob McGowan and Danzig. Warfel knifed the score with a layup before Ellis Harley landed two straight goals for the visitors. Grzelecki tossed in a shot from the side as Bucknell led 30-28 at half time.

In the first four minutes of the second half the Bisons picked up a 40-35 lead but the Bullets refused to collapse and reeled off eight straight tallies on a jump toss by Grzelecki, two fouls by Warfel, a jump shot by McGowan and pair of fouls by Hathaway for a 43-40 advantage after 5:38.

After the lead changed hands twice, two goals by Hathaway and one by McGowan put the Bullets in the lead 56-49 after 11 minutes. Bucknell spurred to capture the lead 63-62 with 2:55 minutes remaining. Hathaway put the Bullets on top again after which Harley drove through for a two-point play for Bucknell. Gettysburg had its last lead on Grzelecki's goal at 66-65 with 2:09 left. Danzig then started his four straight foul conversions to give the visitors their hard-earned victory.

A surprisingly large crowd attended, taking advantage of the ample seating provided with the absence of most of the student body.

The Bullets, now 6-9, have two home conference games this week. They meet Delaware here Thursday and Lehigh on Saturday.

New Coach

DALE HALL IS ARMY'S NEW GRID COACH

NEW YORK (AP) — Dale Hall has his coming-out here Tuesday as the new head Army football coach after being named to succeed Earl (Red) Blaik.

Hall, a former football star and assistant coach at Army under Blaik, was named to the post last Saturday. Blaik announced his retirement 10 days ago, effective Feb. 15, his 63rd birthday.

Hall has served as Army's chief scout and defensive coach for three years and was the man most prominently mentioned to take over the head spot at West Point.

Two other candidates, Jack Green, an assistant coach at Tulane, and Bobby Dobbs, head coach at Tulsa, were interviewed last week by West Point authorities along with Hall. All played for Blaik during the Glenn Davis-Doc Blanchard era.

Hall was a halfback on the 1944 national championship team and did most of the backfield blocking for Blanchard and Davis. He was also a basketball All-American and was named the best athlete in his class upon graduation in 1945.

He coached an Army constabulary team to the 1947 European championships, during his four year tour with an armored cavalry unit. After resigning his commission in 1949, he served as an assistant coach at Purdue, New Hampshire and Florida before coming to Army.

MARTY FURGOL WINS SAN DIEGO OPEN, $2,800

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The 1959 gold rush of the golfing brigade in California was over today, with Marty Furgol the latest to hit pay dirt and Art Wall Jr. carrying the most loot.

Furgol, a 41-year-old veteran from Lemont, Ill., came from behind in the last nine holes to win the $20,000 San Diego Open Sunday, with rounds of 70-71-64-69-274—14 strokes under par. The win gave him $2,800 and his first tournament victory in five years.

The money championship goes to Wall, who in one month raked in $11,965.33. He won $6,000 in the Bing Crosby clambake.

Wall's 278 put him way down the list of finishers. But it netted him another $610.

The windup was hectic and but for a brilliant shot off the tee by Furgol, the show could easily have gone into a six-way tie and a playoff for top money.

Furgol's last big win was in the National Celebrities in Washington, D.C., in 1954. Using borrowed clubs, he drove to the green, banked by crowded bleachers. The ball landed 12 feet from the cup. All he needed was two putts to get his par three and the spoils. He got the three.

Just a few moments before 23-year-old Dave Ragan of Chattanooga, Tenn., had blown a chance to tie or possibly win. He drove to the 18th green and the ball landed in the bleachers.

The former University of Florida star, a pro since 1956, pitched out but left himself a putt of 12 or 15 feet. He couldn't make it and took a bogey four.

Ragan's par 72 threw him into a 5-way tie in a group which included Mike Souchak, newly-wed Joe Campbell of Knoxville, Tenn.; Jo Winingar of Odessa, Tex.; and Billy Casper of Apple Valley, Calif. Their consolation — $1,320 apiece.

Miami, Ariz., doesn't have as many lovely bathing beauties as Miami, Fla. But, Miami, Ariz., is rich in copper mines.

Black Hawks In Two Tie Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Montreal Canadiens' Coach Toe Blake can supply the answer to why the Chicago Black Hawks are the surprise of the National Hockey League.

The Hawks, sharing second place with the New York Rangers, played two 3-3 ties with Montreal over the weekend. Sunday night, the Canadiens strained for the tie in the last five minutes.

The Rangers gained their tie for the runner-up spot with a 5-4 victory over the Detroit Red Wings, after defeating Toronto 5-2 Saturday Night in Toronto.

The Boston Bruins also won a pair, knocking off Toronto 6-4 Sunday night and the Red Wings 5-4 in a Saturday afternoon television game.

WILLIE HOPPE, U. S. BILLIARDS CHAMP, DIES

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Willie Hoppe—"Mr. Billiards" for a half-century of near-flawless play — died Sunday at 71.

"I don't think I'm going to need my cues any longer," the talkative and three-cushion master told hospital visitors just before his death.

His brother, Albert, said Hoppe asked that his leather-cased cues be given to a longtime chum, Sid Mayer of Skokie, Ill., one of his last callers.

Hoppe was hospitalized four months under treatment for cancer, his brother said. The onetime boy wizard of billiards had suffered illnesses before and bounced back to win titles. His last, and 51st, was the three-cushion crown he won in 1952 at the age of 65. He retired that year as the last of great champions of the "Golden twenties."

William Frederick Hoppe was in knee-pants when he made his first shots on a table he had to stand on a box to reach. He started at age 7 to play exhibitions with his later brother, Frank Jr., then 9, after teaching by his father who kept a hotel, barber shop and poolroom at Cornwall-on-Hudson, N.Y.

Willie developed in smoky pool-halls the calm, deliberate style of play that carried him to world titles. In 1911 he won the distinction of being the only known player to give a White House exhibition.

At 18, in 1906, Hoppe was crowned 18.1 hankline champion. He was 18.2 titlist from 1910 to 1920, won the title again in 1923-24, ruled the 14.1 world from 1914 and triumphed in the difficult 71.2 in 1938.

He turned later to three-cushion competition, winning the world title in 1940 in 20 straight victories. He began defeating the stars of the Maurice Vigneaux era of billiards at age 12, and at 14 France in an 18.1 match that drew worldwide attention.

Besides his brother Hoppe leaves three sisters, a son, Willie Jr. of Sonoma, Calif., and a daughter, Alice.

There's Been A Revolution In Music Since Mr. Presley

There's been a revolution in popular music since the rise of Elvis Presley. Today the teen-ager is king—chief listener, buyer, maker of stars. The switch from jazz and swing to rock 'n' roll baffles adult music leaders—but they're making more money than ever by catering to teen tastes. To report on the revolution, AP columnist Bob Thomas talked to figures at all levels of the music world. Following is the first of five columns on what he learned.

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Among the five best-selling records in the nation today are:

"Sixteen Candles" by the Crests.
"Stagger Lee" by Lloyd Price.
"Donna" by Ritchie Valens.
Ever hear them? The chances are no, if you are of voting age and spend little time near radios and juke boxes. But if you're a teen-ager, you doubtless dig these discs the most.

Evidence Of Change

This is offered as evidence of how the folkways of America have changed. There was a time when a song hit was on everyone's lips. The young and the old would be singing "Yes, We Have No Bananas" or "Who's Afraid of the Big, Bad Wolf" or "Praise The Lord and Pass the Ammunition." That situation no longer exists. The popular music field is now dominated — some say monopolized — by a single age group, the teen-agers.

"It's the craziest market I've ever seen," says Glenn Wallich, founder and headman of Capitol Records.

New Performers

"The kids are running the show," adds Randy Wood, who built Dot records into an industry.

A whole new crop of performers and song writers has taken over. It is virtually impossible for the veteran pop singers — the Frankie Laines, Dinah Shores, Jo Stafford — to get a hit record.

Typical of the new stars is lean, tousle-haired Jimmy Rodgers, a Washington State boy who lived on candy bars and soft drinks in New York City while trying to break in as a singer. Then he recorded "Honeycomb," a million seller. Now Jimmy's earning $200,000 a year.

"It's tough for any girl singer these days," says Wood, mentor of Pat Boone's career. "Teen-age girls buy most of the single records and they seem to want a secret love affair with their favorite singer. Because of this, the publicity about Pat's family life has hurt his single sales, though he's getting a broader audience all the time."

Likewise, the longtime writers of great American songs scarcely get a look-in on the current pop market. The tunes of Irving Berlin, Cole Porter and Richard Rodgers are neglected for such members as "Whole Lotta Lovin'" and "I Got Stung."

Whence came this power of teen-agers to impose their musical tastes on the entire population?

Says a psychologist: "Every generation has the urge to discover and enshrine its own heroes and entertainments. This is especially true of today's teen-agers, who were born into and reared in the wartime era of lax family controls. They are seeking a break with the past."

Next: Ricky Nelson, king of the teens.

HAD PESTS TO DESTROY CROP

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A Woodbury, N. J., woman arrived from England, Friday, with a tiny cactus plant containing earth which officials said had enough microscopic pests to destroy the entire South Jersey tomato crop.

Emanuel Wirtschafter, a customs inspector, said he found the thimbleful of earth around the plant which was in the woman's suitcase when she arrived at International Airport.

Wirtschafter said the woman told him she had brought the plant back as a remembrance of her birthplace.

He declined to identify her or her native city.

J. A. Ramos, inspector in charge of the Plant Quarantine Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture said a microscopic examination showed there were 11 golden nematode cysts about the size

POLICE SEEK FOR LEAD IN GIRL'S MURDER

GREENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Police questioned a score of witnesses over the weekend, searching for a lead in the brutal slaying of Marcia Cordon, a 15-year-old Westmoreland County high school sophomore.

The girl's body was found Saturday night face down in a creek in North Huntingdon Twp. about six miles from her home in Shawtown.

An autopsy showed the girl had been sexually assaulted and bludgeoned to death, according to Coroner Stephen D. Yoney. She was last seen shortly after attending a high school basketball game in Irwin last Tuesday.

The body was found by Bobby Lord, 17, of Herminie about a mile from an Army Nike installation where a number of soldiers are stationed.

Lord's mother called police. The discovery ended a search that had been carried on for several days by police, firemen and volunteers.

Marcia, an attractive brunette, was a pupil at Norwin High School. She resided with her father Alvin, and a sister, Patricia, 17. Her mother died in November, 1957.

The father said Marcia telephoned home after the basketball game to say she had missed an auto ride with her sister. The call was made from a pay station at an Irwin parking lot. The family heard no more from her.

The coroner said Marcia died of a skull fracture and brain hemorrhage. He said she had been beaten with a blunt instrument.

The autopsy showed the girl was dead before she was placed in the water. The stream was between eight and 10 inches deep.

of a pinhead in the earth. If not isolated, Ramos added, the cysts could have spread and become not only destructive to tomato crops but also to potatoes.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.
In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.
Most amazing of all — results were so thorough that sufferers made astounding statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Hyde*) — discovery of a world-famous research institute. This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H.*
At your druggist. Money back guarantee.
